question asked of Orchard related to a point that has been much discussed and generally considered a vital one. It was

Mr. Orchard, at any time in the course of your imprisonment have you been sub-jected to any force or duress with the object jected to any force or duress with the object of getting you to make a statement or confession or have any promises been made to you for that or any other purpose?"

Orchard paused a moment and looked very grave. It was plain that he instantly appreciated the weight and the drift of the inquiry and in his reply he showed that his mind was clear to the point of keenness.

"I have never at any time admitted that I have made any statement or confession," he sai! "I want to make that point clear. he sai! Want to make that path offer.

But I will say this in addition. At notime half been subjected to any force or persecution and whatever I have done has been done voluntarily. No promises of any kind have ever been made to me and I don't expect any."

on't expect any."
Orchard said that he had read what the Orchard said that he had read what the newspapers had to say about him and the Haywood trial and the work of getting a jury. He was interested in the remark of one of the talesman to the effect that he took the Ladies' Home Journal, and asked what that was. At parting Orchard shook hands with a warm and cordial grip. "Goodby," said the correspondent, "I shall hope to see you in the court room."

"I hope so," said Orchard.
Then Keeper Robbins, from way down East, came in and took him away.
Gov. Gooding this afternoon made this statement:

statement: I have sometimes feared that Orchard would get the idea that some promises would be made to him, a thing which has never been contemplated. Once when I was talking with him be stopped me with the remark: 'I wish you would not go any further on this line. I might think that you wished to make me some promise, and I don't expect any and don't want any.'

"It is indeed a fact that.'

first there has been no intention on the part of the prosecution to offer Orchard any immunity.

"It has always been intended to puf him on trial after the cases of Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone are disposed of and to hang him if he is convicted. That intention still Meantime the prisoner is calmly awaiting the day when he is to be taken into court and put upon the witness stand. He has the placid, serene air of a man whose future is fixed and whose mind nothing can shake. It is probable that nobody knows better than he the position in which he stands and his importance to the prosecution. It seems extremely probable that he will make the strongest kind of a witness.

Strongest kind of a witness.

The changes in Harry Orchard since the day he was arrested are largely physiological. Some day the whole story of that change will be told, but this is not the day.

SLOW WORK GETTING A JURY Challenges Deplete the Box Faster Than It Can Be Filled.

Boise, Idaho, May 16.-There was no morning session of court to-day on account of the funeral of Judge Nugent.

At the afternoon session progress was pretty slow toward jury getting, but just before adjournment there was a great triumph for whiskers. Joel Matthews had 'em, and they are red ones of great length and luxuriance. He is a farmer who came here from Missouri. He said he had certain objections to circumstantial evidence, but he thought he could overcome them if the evidence was strong enough. He has always voted the Democratic ticket, was once a Baptist and now attends the Methodist church. He was provisionally accepted and nothing but a peremptory challenge can now dislodge him.

The box filled again, the peremptory challenging began afresh. It was the defence's turn and the lightning hit Allen Pride. He is the man Deputy Sheriff Reberts talked to about Orchard when he served him with his summons as a talesman. Milton Burns, another farmer whose scalp is a desert and whose chin is a jungle.

had an opinion. It was too bad. J. A. Pinney, who was Mayor of Bo when Steunenberg was killed, had the strongest kind of an opinion. So did J. I. ton a Roise banker-sure thing; a

A. V. Reichelberger, a former member of the Legislature, got off because he had no use for the "Debs Socialists," as he called John Henderlieder, a rancher, is a Der crat and takes the Commoner, but he had made up his mind about the case. E. M. Jackson, another rancher, was in the same fix. Still a third rancher followed. He was George Cole, who looked to be a pretty hard headed citizen. He was only a car-penter in New York city, he said, and he is the only talesman yet called who has ever yed in New York. He said he has some little opinion in the case and Lawyer Richardson wanted to know how much evidence it would take to change it. Cole said he it would take to change it. Cole said he couldn't tell whether it would take a peck and a half or two litres, or words to that effect. Cole finally explained that he had been an invalid for several years been an invalid for several years.

"I had the erysipelas several years ago and haven't seen a well day since," he said.
"We challenge him for physical disability," said Lawyer Richardson. A laugh went around the court room, for Cole is a pretty husky looking person. But they let him po. Charles Mace, a Boise Valley farmer, was next up. He said he was born in Idaho thirty-one years ago. He is the only native son that has yet appeared for examination, and he had the hardihood to wear a red necktie. Mr. Richardson wanted to red necktie. Mr. Richardson wanted to know at what stage of the trial Mace would be able to give up the slight opinion be now has. Mace could not tell whether ould be on Decoration Day or at midnight

he court room was only about two thirds filled this afternoon. Part of the time there was no guard on duty at the door, and the deputy who looked after Haywood sat afar off. Haywood's family was not in court this afternoon.

Several witnesses who will testify for the prosecution arrived here from Pocatello. They include ex-Chief of Police C. H. Smith, Dan O'Meara, A. Thomas McConkay and George McConkay. They will all testify about the "Pettibone dope" will all testify about the "Pettibone dope". alleged to have been invented by George A. Pettibone. This appears to have been some kind of chemical compound that burned with extraordinary persistence and vigor.

Steve Adams confessed that he buried some of it in Pocatello after he had abandoned his idea of using it to destroy a train load of strike breakers who had been sent from Idaho to Colorado while a miners' strike was in progress. O'Meara was the man who discovered the location of the "Pettibone dope" or "hell fire." The others strike breakers who had been sen

REBUKES SHERIFF HE ACQUITS.

Jersey City Judge Finds Kalser Wasn't Gambling-Latter's Friends Cheer. Sheriff John C. Kaiser of Hudson county who, with two other men, was arrested by Policeman John Scheffmeyer, a Fagan cop, in John Smith's saloon, at 318 Communipaw avenue. Jersey City, at 4:20 o'olook on the morning of May 7, was tried for gambling by Judge John A. Blair in the Court of Special Sessions vesterday. The taking of testimony started at 10:30 o'clock and the case was concluded at 3, when the Judge announced his decision of acquittal.

The Sheriff's friends clapped their hands and stamped their feet. Judge Blair rapped his gavel and remarked that the court room wasn't a place of amusement. When the constables had restored order the Court

"It is to be deplored that the chief execu-It is to be depiored that the chief execu-tive of the county, a man whose sworn duty it is to maintain law and order, should find himself in a position where he was subject to arrest. I hope the experience will be a lifelong lesson to him. He should remember the ancient precept to avoid the appearance of evil."

Judge Blair said that Officer Scheffmeyer stified in doing what he did, although ould have made sure that gambling was going on before he made an arrest.

STEAMSHIP LINES STAND PAT

ISMAY SAYS THERE'LL BE NO YIELDING TO STRIKERS.

Crew of La Touraine Delayed the Sailing of the Ship Two Hours Until They Got Paid for Ereight Handling - Vessels of Other Lines Get Away on Time.

The arrival of J. Bruce Ismay, president of the International Mercantile Marine Company, on the new White Star liner Adriatio yesterday, was looked forward to by the striking longshoremen in the hope that a change of policy favorable to the men would follow. After a conference with other officials of the company, however, he announced that he was satisfied with the course which had been pursued by the companies and that he saw no reason for changing it.

Mr. Ismay had a conference lasting two hours in the lounging room of the Adriatic as soon as the vessel was berthed with General Manager Franklin of the White Star Line, General Manager Lee of the Red Star Line and J. H. Thomas, operating manager of the International Mercantile Marine Company. When the conference was over he was asked if his coming would have any effect on the policy of the companies regarding the strike.

"It will not," he replied. ceived a complete statement from Mr. Lee and Mr. Franklin and am thoroughly in accord with their policy. We will make no advances, but will stand pat on the position taken since the scrike began. That is all there is to say on the subject.

Before the French line steamer La Touraine sailed there was a sort of shore mutiny among the crew over a demand to be paid for discharging and loading the ship before the vessel sailed instead of waiting until she was out at sea as is the usual custom.

The crew found a leader in Jules Fornet a six foot fireman, who harangued 149 firemen and thirty sailors on the pier in French. He told them that they ought to make sure that they were paid for the extra work in discharging and unloading in American money at the full rates agreed on before they turned in to sail the ship. One time before, he said, many years ago, when there was a strike of the longshoremen, the men waited until they were past Sandy, Hook and got only 10 cents an hour.

The firemen and sailors sat around on

The firemen and sailors sat around on boxes and bales and vowed that the ship could sail itself as far as they were con-cerned until they were paid at the rate of 30 and 45 cents an hour for night and day work in loading and discharging. Fornet was sent as a committee of one to Supt. Manis with the ultimatum of the crew. Mr. Manis asked if they could not wait usual until the ship was out of port, as e making out of pay lists would delay e ship. Fornet said a compromise was impossible.

Capt. Manis called up General Agent Forget on the telephone and asked for instructions. The outcome was that the men were paid before they returned on board, which delayed the sailing of the ship two hours. While the dispute was going on many hundreds of striking the comprehensive side. ongshoremen were on the opposite side of West street and began to cheer. They thought at first that the crew was on strike. The North German Lloyd steamship Rhein sailed yesterday for Bremen at 10 A. M., schedule time. General Agent Gustay H. Schwab of the line said that she brought in a cargo of 4,000 tons and sailed with an export cargo of 7,000 tons. He was certain that the strike would be over n a few days. "More than 600 men are at work on the Hoboken docks of the line," he said. "After the sailing of the Rhein they were divided into three gangs and put to work loading and coaling the Kronprinz, which sails next Tuesday: the Koenig Albert, which sails Saturday, and the Princess Alice, which sails on May 23. There is not the slightest chance of the steamship lines giving in to the strikers."

At the piers of the Hamburg-American Line in Hoboken it was said that the strike was practically ended. Some of the strikers asked to be taken back and were told that the companies had not yet agreed as to how the strikers would be taken back. The Carpathia of the Cunard Line sailed at 10 A. M. with a full cargo, according to agents. The crew were still at work American Line. Patrick Connors, president of the strikers organization, asserted that Supt. Pennell of the White Star Line had sent a messenger to him asking to see a committee of the old employees and that the request was denied on the ground that the companies would have to confer with a committee of the Mr. Pennell was asked if this were

"You can get the answer at No. 9 Broad-This is the office of the International Mercantile Marine Company. When Operating Manager Thomas was seen there he

You can deny the statement that Mr Pennell asked for a conference as strongly as you can. There is not a word of truth in the story.

(api, Thomas G. Gillett of the Associated Operating Company of Brooklyn, composed of boss stevedores, said last night that Auditor & Co., one of the largest firms of employing stevedores in Brooklyn, had granted the demands of 1,500 striking longshoremen who had been employ along the Brooklyn docks. They are

WINE GROWERS RIOTOUS.

The Furniture of Police Station at Beziers Burned-City Hall Resists Attack.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. Parts. May 16.-The wine growers at Regiers, after making a manifestation this afternoon, became riotous this evening and proposed to burn the city hall. They seized the furniture of the police station in the city hall and made a bonfire of it in front of the building, but the iron doors prevented them from getting possession of the city hall itself. Ten policemen and a dozen of the rioters were injured. Quiet was restored at a 50,000 DIDN'T VOTE.

Compulsory Suffrage Law in Lower Austria Falls to Work Satisfactorily.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. VIENNA, May 16.-The new universal suffrage law, under which the recent elections were carried out, prescribes that every voter must vote. It is now found that tions were carried out prescribes that every voter must vote. It is now found that nearly $0,000 qualified electors in Vienna and lower Austria did not vote. It is understood that they will be prosecuted. The penalty is a fine of ten kronen or less, according to circumstances.

Forty-one Prelates at Spanish Prince Christening.

Special Cable Despaich to THE SUN. MADRID, May 16. The foreign represents tives who are to be present at the royal christening are expected to arrive to-more row. They will be lodged in the royal palace The christening will take place at noon on Saturday. Forty-one prelates will assist. The Queen is doing so well that her mother, Princess Henry of Battenburg, will probably start on her return journey to London on pext Monday.

May Fleat the Prinz August Wilhelm.

Special Coble Desputch to The Sun. KINGSTON, Jamaica, May 16 - There are hopes of the speedy refloating of the Hamburg-American Line steamer Prinz August Wilhelm, which went aground in the harbor here on May 2.

HAS INSPECTED CONSULATES. Congressman Madden Coming Home With suggestions to Congress and the President,

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.
I ONDON, May 16.—Congressman Martin B. Madden of Chicago has arrived here from a tour of Italy, Spain, France, Belgium, Holland and Switzerland, where under the authorization of President Roosevelt he visited and inquired into the workings of the American consulates, with the view to incorporating the information obtained in legislation for the improvement of the consular service.

Mr. Madden told the correspondent of THE SUN that the result of his inquiries led him to believe that much red tape could be eliminated. The President, he thought should be empowered to promote or change men whose qualifications showed their fitness for more responsible posts without referring his action to the Senate for confirmation. This move would keep the President and the Department of State daily in close touch with questions relating to the commercial interests of the country.

The consular service, Mr. Madden thinks ought to be confined to Americans, and foreigners, who have other interests besides American at heart, should be removed. The consuls should be in touch with the commercial interests of America and sufficiently patriotic to devote themselves to the interests and the development of American trade.

Mr. Madden will continue his investigations in England and Scotland. During his tour of the Continent he studied the canal systems. He was astonished to find what an enormous amount of shipping there was by way of the canals. All heavy freight not needing to be moved rapidly is carried on the canals, leaving the railroads free for more important traffic. He means to take up again at the next session of Congress the question of the development of American waterways.

OPEN DOOR A FARCE.

Pekin Correspondent of London "Times" Complains of Conditions in Manchuria.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. LONDON, May 17 .- The Pekin correspondent of the Times complains of "the Japanese negation in practice of the open door policy and of equal opportunity in Manhuria." Englishmen, he says, have been patiently waiting for months for a settlement of the customs question at Dalny, and British merchants at Newchwang are suffering from a grievous handicap.

Goods entering Manchuria through Dalny do not pay duty. They are mostly of Japanese origin and are handled exclusively by Japanese. Goods entering through Newchwang pay full duty. Moreover, owing to the preferential tariff instituted by Japan in favor of Dalny, freight charges on goods from Newchwang to the chief distributing centre of Manchuria, Kwangchengteze, amount to 5 shillings a ton more than from Dalny, which is a longer distance.

Another important question is the protection of trade marks. China is being swamped with Japanese imitations of British goods and there is no redress. Great Britain, Russia, Germany and France signed reciprocal agreements for the protection of trade marks, but Japan was not willing to join them. The question of copyright also requires adjustment. English text books. phototyped at Tokio and purporting to be published by English firms, are being used at the Pekin University.

SEDELMEYER'S PICTURE SALE. Reaburn's Portrait of Mrs. Monteith Brings 130,000 Francs -Other Prices.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. PARIS. May 16 .- At the Sedelmeyer sale to-day Reaburn's portrait of Mrs. Monteith sold for 130,000 francs. The same artist's portrait of Mrs. Pattison brought 112,000 francs, and his Col. Ramsay and wife 107,000 francs. Hoppner's portrait of Miss Raine sold for 10,500 francs, and his Mrs. Home for 78,000.

Two landscapes on the River Stour, by Constable, brought 32,000 and 29,000 francs respectively. Romney's portrait of the Marchioness of Hertfort sold for 32,000 francs; Lawrence's Countess of Darney, 27,000 francs, and Reynolds's Lady Somerset for 18,000 francs.

GRAND JURY IGNORES RUEF.

Refuses to Return Any Indictment on His Testimony-Spreckles and Heney Balked. SAN FRANCISCO, May 16 .- The Grand Jury to-day listened to Abe Ruef for an hour and ten minutes, and then after considering his testimony for an hour failed to return any indictments.

From the downcast demeanor of members of the prosecution it was evident that the Grand Jury was not impressed with Ruef's testimony. In fact, it looks as though members of the Grand Jury didn't believe what Ruef told them, and that Heney and the other prosecutors made a big mistake when they induced Ruef to turn State's evidence. All the members of the jury refused to discuss Ruef's testimony, but it is evident that the Grand Jury is not pleased with the conduct of the prosecution and that the members believe Ruef is being coached by the prosecution to give such testimony as Spreckles and those back of the prosecu-

The general opinion about town is that the Grand Jury has refused to indict President Calhoun or any other official of the United Railroads. Rudolph Spreckels cared more for the indictment of Calhoun than for anything else; hence the importance to him and to Henry of the Grand Jury returning indictments on Ruef's testimony. All the politicians believe that Ruef seed in order to save a remnant o his fortune. His lawyers had been expensive and he foresaw that if he fough the many indictments against him he would have little left. So he confessed, under promise of two or three years in the State

DR. ROBERTS MODERATOR.

Presbyterian Assembly May Make Him Executive Head of the Church. COLUMBUS. Ohio, May 16 .- Dr. William H. Roberts of Philadelphia, for years State clerk, was elected moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church here to-day.

He defeated the Rev. Francis E. Marston New York among others for the position. A movement is under way to make the moderator the representative head of the Presbyterian churches in the United States. It is planned to give him an administrative council and to give him power to act between assemblies.

The special committee appointed a year ago, while not ready to report, will make important recommendations affecting the church government. It will urge the church government. It will urge the amalgamating of the eight boards of the h into one large executive committee.
Landrith, who was the last mode-of the Cumberland Assembly, delivered the sermon. He will be chairman of the committee on overtures.

Called to His Door and Shot Dead. ALBANY, May 16 .- Alonzo P. Hewitt was called to the threshold of his home in Rensselaer early to-night and shot dead, the bullet entering his neck. Who committed the deed is not known, but a daughter of the dead man said that she heard the voice of his brother-in-law, William Lozon, at the time Hewitt was called to the door.

Your next catalogue might profit from a glance at the order-clutching illustrations we are exhibiting at the Advertising Show in Madision Square Garden.

If you would like to see them. write us on your letterhead. enclosing your last catalogue, and we will mail free ticket of admission to the Garden. Ask for the booth of The Imprinters.

American Bank Note Company,

86 Trinity Place, New York.

DODGED SLANDER SUIT TRIAL. Many Excuses in a Munich Case, "Deep Spiritual Depression" Being One.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. MUNICH, May 16 .- The slander suit of Baron Speidel, manager, and others connected with the Royal Theatre against the editor of a local newspaper began to-day before a crowded house. Among the actresses present who attracted attention was the lively Fraulein Jung, who is alleged to have received visitors in her fashionable salon when she was dressed in knee breeches and otherwise fantastically clad.

Frau Mottl, wife of the court music conductor, one of the plaintiffs in the case, was the first witness called. But a certificate was submitted in her behalf saying that she was suffering from a nervous attack. The reading of it was received with general laughter.

Richard Strauss, another of the witnesses ummoned in the case, wrote from Paris that he could not leave that city, as he was engaged there in directing the opera of Herr Burkheim, a singer, who married the daughter of Duke Louis of Bavaria, sent in a certificate that he was suffering from "deep spiritual depression." Ernest von Possart, who preceded Speidel in the management of the theatre, was excused when he said that he knew nothing at all of he matters in controversy.

The absentees thus disposed of, Editor Siebertz, the defendant, began his testimony. He said that the alleged libel was based, not on information received from one source but from many sources, and that the matter complained of had been pubished from a high conception of public duty.

TO MAKE ALL JOIN THE ARMY. Prime Minister Deakin Says Compulsory Military Service is Near in Australia.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. LONDON, May 16 .- Alfred Deakin, Prime Minister of the Commonwealth of Australia, addressing the National Service League to-day said he believed that universal comsulsory military service would soon be established throughout Australia. This would be appropriate, because the Australian States undertake the education of their citizens, and they believe that military training is a part of education. There could be no greater guarantee of peace, in the risks of war. Field Marshal Lord Roberts followed Mr. Deakin and spoke approvingly of conscription. He dwelt upon the inadequate preparations for the defence of Great Britain, an invasion of which, he declared, was in no wise impossible. Everybody outside of Great Britain knew the country was not sufficiently organized to cope with the thoroughly equipped Continental armies. The only people who did not or would not realize this were the British themselves.

CALLS ON THE IRISH TO RISE.

National Council Wants to Secure International Recognition at The Ha gue. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.

LONDON, May 16 .- The Sinn Fein, the organ of advanced Irish Nationalism, publishes to-day this resolution, which it savs was adopted by the executive committee of the National Council:

"Resolved, That as the Irish Council bili is an insult to the Irish nation, this council calls upon Irishmen who have attended the British Parliament during the last twentyone years, in support of the British Liberal party, to withdraw from that Parliament, return to Ireland, assemble in Dublin in conjunction with the General Council of County Councils and authorized representatives of all Irish interests and devise and direct measures for the material betterment of Ireland and the securing of international recognition and support for Ireland's political rights. And as a first step to secure this international recognition we consider that such national assembly should claim representation at the coming Hague Conference for the settlement of the international dispute between Ireland and England by an international court of arbi-

NICARAGUANS IN CONTROL. The Coast Country of Honduras New in Charge of the Invaders. NEW ORLEANS, May 16 .- Passengers from Ceiba report that the government of that part of Honduras is entirely in the hands of the Nicaraguans, who refuse to recognize the provincial government of Tegucigalpa and are administering affairs to suit themselves. They are preserving good order on the coast. The entire force of several hundred men on the American railroads from Ceiba into the fruit country was rounded up a few days ago and pressed into the Honduran provincial army, but on order of the Nicaraguan commandant the men were released and are at work again. The refusal of the commandant to permit the forcible enlistment of men in the army has resulted in an abundant supply of labor on the coast, where was recently scarce because the men were drafted into the army or fied into the interior to avoid service. Vessels are finding no difficulty in getting full cargoes.

Caruse Dodges That $200,000 a Year Story Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.

LONDON. May 16 .- Caruso, who is now singing at Covent Garden Theatre, was questioned to-day as to the statement of the Echo d. Paris that he had said he was under engagement to Heinrich Conried from June 1 of this year to June 30, 1911, at a salary of $200,000 a year He intimated that the subject was not one for discussion. An intimate friend of Caruso declares that the Echo de Parie's story is nonsense.

EFFACING THE BORDER LINE

JOYOUS ANNUAL LOVE FEAST OF THE CANADIAN CLUB.

The President and the King Toasted With Cheers and Saved With Song -Ex-Secrelary Shaw Tells a Story With a Point -Speakers From Across the Line

It's coming yet for a' that— That man to man the warld o'er Shall brithers be for a' that.

This seemed to be the sentiment at the annual banquet of the Canadian Club of New York, held last night in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Astor. The affair assumed the proportions of an international

The dinner was not one of those affairs to which folks come late to be fashionable, because evidently they had attended other functions given by the Canadians and knew there would be something doing every minute. So at 7 o'clock, the time set for the diners to assemble, they were on hand to the number of about 500. Perhaps it was sight of the decorations that tickled them, for they did not waste much time getting enthusiastic Just back of the guests' table were draped large English and American flags with the beautiful white silk banner of the Canadian Club in the centre. Around the galleries were the flags of the two nations and up where the women were to assemble later American beauty roses were strewn in profusion. At each table was a set of small American and small English flags, which were later used alternately in waving by the guests. Pipe Major Roderick Bane MacKenzie, veteran of the Seventy-ninth Gordon Highlanders, came on with the soup. He stands 7 feet 21/2 inches in his stocking feet and weighs 300 pounds, and the way he and weighs 500 pounds, and the way he played his pipe brought the diners to their feet with a shout. Roderick was giving them the Canadian anthem, "The Maple Leaf Forever," and the tune carried home in fine style. Just behind the piper stalked Drum Major Rowe in full regalia of the Black Watch. He also was a giant in stature and soon had a line of enthusiastic persons prancing along behind him just stature and soon had a line of enthusiastic persons prancing along behind him just to show that good feeling existed. Sud-denly the musician changed the tune to "Yankee Doodle." This promptly brought "Yankee Doodle." This promptly brought a salvo of cheers.

Then a party of merry souls in the far corner who evidently came prepared to keep things moving started chanting:

And once again before me rise, In grandeur still and lone, In valley, timber clad, where stands My Canadian home: Neath which the babbling brook flows down To meet the mighty main Land of uncounted, untrod hills,

When shall we meet again. President Neil Macphatter had been try ing for fifteen minutes to get order, but after that little verse had echoed around the room it took some time to straighten out the chairs, let alone bring silence. It was only such a mighty thing as a ringing toast to the President of the United States toast to the Fresident of the band played that brought attention. The band played "America" and those who were not cheering took up the strain and sung it through—and the latter knew the words, too. Then ing took up the strain and sung it intoliging and the latter knew the words, too. Then President Macphatter proposed the health of King Edward.

"As great a King as the President is a President!" he shouted.

"Three cheers for King Edward!" shouted R. M. O'Hara, near by. They were given with such racket that though the band, will trying each to keep up played "God still trying each to keep up played "God." with such racket that though the band, still trying nard to keep up, played "God Save the King" not a note was heard. "Now bless their hearts we've got 'em both saved?" shouted one solemn looking chap. "Not a bad President and pretty good old King!"

Then everybody within hearing roared. and they started in enthusing all over again.
Dr. S. Parkes Cadman of Brooklyn was the first speaker. He made things hum in the way of saying nice things about the Canadians, and if the listeners had had their way.

dians, and it the listeners had that the way, judging from the enthusiasm, he might have been speaking yet. Leslie M. Shaw, former Secretary of the Treasury, followed on the subject of reciprocity. He was introduced as Mr. Secretary.

"I am not the Secretary any more," "I am not the Secretary any more," Mr. Shaw retorted. "In the days when used to be I often told a story that used to be a favorite with Attorney-General
When he was the story that he was to be a favorite with Attorney-General Miller. When he returned to his home town he was driven from the station by the old postman. 'Guess you've forgotten me,' said Miller. 'Nope,' replied the driver. 'What's my name?' 'Miller,' replied the other disinterestedly. 'Do the folks here know I'm a member of President Harrison's cabinet?' 'Yep.' 'Well, what do they say?' 'Nothin' much. They just laugh.'" Other speakers were R. F. Sutherland. Speaker of the Canadian House of Commons; Postmaster-General R. Lemieux of Canada, Postmaster-General R. Lemieux of Canada Justice J. J. McLaren of Ontario, Adam Beck, Congressman Peter White of Michigan and Donald MacMaster of London.

STEINHART TO STAY IN HAVANA. onsul Will Become Gov. Magoon's Adviser When He Retires From Office.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. HAVANA, May 16. After his retirement on July 1 Mr. Steinhart, the American Consul, will continue as Gov. Magoon's adviser, as he has been since the intervention. He will have no official capacity and will draw no salary from the Government He is Mr. Magoon's chief assistant and his services are needed. He has been here for nine years and has more influence than any other American in Havana. A score of Cuban señoras and señoritas called at the palace to-day to protest to Gov. Magoon against an order issued by the Mayor of Cardenas taxing dogs and directing policemen to search houses for unlicensed animals. Mr. Magoon did not receive them, so they left a petition, beautifully prepared, with a poem on dogs' souls.

PLOT AGAINST THE KAISER? Shot Fired at an Automobile Ten Minutes Before the Emperor's Passed.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN BERLIN. May 16 .- According to the Mittag Zeitung what may have been an attempt to shoot the Kaiser occurred in the neighborhood of Wiesbaden. A high power automobile was running between the villages of Ehrenheim and Hattersheim when a revolver was fired at it. The bullet passed harmlessly over the heads of the occupants. Ten minutes later the Kaiser's car passed. It is assumed that the person who fired the shot mistook the first car for that of his Majesty. A reward has been offered for the discovery of the shooter.

SOLDIER BRIBED TO KILL CZAR. Details of the Recent Plot Differ From Those Given Out at First.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN

LONDON, May 17.-Correspondents at St the alleged plot against the Czar differing considerably from the story telegraphed in detail a couple of days ago. While some repudiate the whole story, those who confirm the main fact say there was no great organized plot, but that a soldier, prompted by sudden remorse, went to the commander of the guards and confessed that he had received a large sum of money from the revolutionists to kill the Czar. The man was arrested and the money was found in his belongings.

Jamaica's New Governor Arrives. Special Cable Desputch to TRE SUN. KINGSTON, Jamaica, May 16 .- Sydney Olivier, the newly appointed Governor, who succeeds Sir Alexander Swettenham. resigned, arrived here to-day, and was given magnificent reception.

The Day and Night Barber Shop

Completed at an expense of $30,000

A Shave at Any Old Time Realizing that the tipping evil is un-American, I prohibit tips. Sanday morning you are generally compelled to wait in other shops. Drop in and take advantage of up-to date service. Refined and particular men will find 1 have made ample provision for im-mediate, police and efficient service. I employ 25 experienced Bar-bers. 12 Manicuris s and a Chiropodist. A shave, with shine and brushing, costs you 20 cents.

General News Ticker. MARTIRE

1418 Broadway Opp site Metropolitan Opera House.

HELD FOR STEALING CHECKS

CASE LOOKS LIKE ONE OF RIFLING THE MAILS. Checks Had Been Sent by Banks Law Publishing Co. to Out of Town Creditors -Vreeland and Ralph, Who Were Implicated, Discharged-Owitz Held. Louis Owitz, 20 years old, who lives at the Bowery branch of the Y. M. C. A., was held in $2,000 bail for the Grand Jury yesterday on a charge of grand larceny by Magistrate Breen in the Tombs police court.

He is one of the four young men arrested last Monday for passing a $69.70 check and attempting to cash another for $800, the checks having been stolen after the Banks Law Publishing Company had drawn hem on a downtown bank and sent them by one of its messengers to the Post Office to mail to out of town creditors. John M. Ralph, a clerk, and Harrison E. reeland, a salesman, who were arrested at the same time, were discharged, having satisfactorily explained their connection with the transaction. Alfred Pollack, another clerk, was held in $100 as a witness Pollack was originally arrested on the same charge, but Assistant District Attorney Keogh decided to utilize him as witness Isaac S. Jennings, treasurer of the Banks Law Publishing Company, made the complaint. In all eighteen checks for sums ranging up to $1,000 were sent to the mails The boy who was intrusted with them insists that he actually deposited them in the Post Office. The police and Federal authorities are now trying to find out if the mails were rifled. The testimony showed that the four The testimony showed that the four young men were frequenters of a pool and billiard parlor in Park row near the Post Office. On May 3 Owitz, who had just come here from Chicago, showed several checks to young Ralph and said that he was a stranger here and was unable to cash them. He asked Ralph if he could not introduce him to some of his friends who might help him out. Ralph introduced him to Vreeland, saying that as Vreeland had rich relatives he might fix him up. Vreeland in turn introduced him to Pollack, and two checks, the one for $69.70 and and two checks, the one for $69.70 and another for $800, were given by Owitz to Vreeland and Pollack.

They went down to the bank on which the checks were drawn and had them certified. Then Pollack took the smaller check to Bruno Schoenfeldt of 3104 Avenue F to Bruno Schoenfeldt of 3104 Avenue F, Brooklyn, who in turn took it to the cashier of the American Express Company, a personal friend, who cashed it. Schoenfeldt says he gave Pollack $45 of the proceeds, retaining the balance for a debt Pollack owed to him. Pollack alleges that he never got a cent from Schoenfeldt, that the latter instead of handing him the cash put him off on the pretext that they would have to wait a couple of days to see if the check wait a couple of days to see if the check went through the bank all right. Pollack admits having forged the indorsement of the Minneapolis firm to whom the check was payable. Pollack said he had also handed the $800 check to Schoenfeldt to cash, but admits that the latter had to cash, but admits that the latter had refused to attempt to put it through.

Owitz stolidly refused to give any explanation as to where he got the checks. He pleaded not guilty and further than that refused to say a word.

Morgan J. O'Brien, as counsel for the American Express Company, agreed to produce Schoenfeldt at any time to testify and he was not obliged to give bail for his and he was not obliged to give bail for his appearance as a witness.

Who the "rich relatives" of young Vree-land were could not be learned. Lawyer W. J. A. Caffery, who defended him, declined When he was originally arrested cash bail in the sum of $1,500 was furni for Vreeland by Martin F. Doyle of Greenwich street. Young Ralph's mother is a well to do roung Raiph's mother is a well to do widow, who gave a $15,000 parcel of property at 1234 Fulton street, Brooklyn, to bail him out. When he was discharged she fell into the arms of her two daughters who was with her is count and mind the street of the st were with her in court and cried out: "Thank God! I hope this will be a lesson to him to keep better company."

PRIME MINISTERS AROUSED. Colonial Representatives Stirred Up Over

Their Treatment in London. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. LONDON. May 16.- The irritation of the colonial Prime Ministers with the Government was further voiced to-day by Sir William Lyne, Minister of State for Trade and Customs of Australia, who in an address to the Australian Chamber of Commerce in London complained that they had been treated unfairly at the conference. The Government's action, he said, had been negative throughout. It had negatived everything the colonial representatives wanted the Government to do. He complained that the press was excluded from the conference against the wishes of a majority of the members and the Government had issued to the public only just what it wished to have published. It was remarkable, he said, that the daily official summary gave a good resume of the speeches of the imperial Ministers and a bad one of the others.

Two of the Ministers, Messra, Asquith and Churchill, he said, had adopted an almost offensive attitude towards the Prime Ministers. Mr. Lloyd-George was the most reasonable Minister they had to deal with. Sir William declared that as a new generation arose in the colonies they would lose the feeling of kinship with Great Britain unless something was done to sustain it by interchange and commerce and a quickening of means of communication. Sir William said in conclusion that the representatives from Australia would re-Petersburg are now sending versions of turn home with a feeling of great disar-

The Liver is seldom healthy

while coffee is the daily drink. Doctors recommend

"There's a Reason"

OVER

materials.

termined only by Business Suits $15 to $45.

FOR THE MAN WHO WANTS SUMMER COMFORT COM-BINED WITH APPEARANCE AND LONG WEAR.

MANY STYLES IN WHITE AND EXCLUSIVE FANCY PATTERNS. ASK FOR CLUETT SHIRTS

AND LOOK FOR THE

CLUETT LABEL.

CLUETT, PEABODY & CO. MAKERS OF ARROW COLLARS VICHY

CELESTINS Avoid substitutes so-called "VICKY" offered by unscrupulous dealers

Carbonic, Artificial Vichy, Selters, Club Soda and Ginger Ale CARL H. SCHULTZ.

Tel. 8420 Madison Sq. 480-444 1st Av., N. Y.

BUSINESS NOTICES

Mrs. Winslew's Secthing Syrep for childre teching, softens the gums, reduces inflammation allays pain, cures wind colle, diarrhosa, 25c. a bottle

MI MALE DIED. CREEK MALE

BLUNT.—At Brooklyn, N. Y., May 14, 1907, Gen. Matthew M. Blunt, U. S. Army, retired, aged 76 years. at Church of St. Matthew, McDonough st. and Tempkins av., Brooklyn, N. Y., at so clock Friday morning; May 17, 1907. Interment at West Point, N. Y., private. Major James H. Ronaids of 1409 Pacific st. in charge. BOND.—On Thursday, May 16, at his home, in New Canaan, Conn., William Edward Bond, son of the late Thomas and Ella Bond, in his Notice of funeral hereafter. DOWNEY.—On Wednesday evening, May 15, 1907, Mary Fisher, widow of John Robert Downey. Funeral service at her late residence, 19 West 45th st., on Saturday morning, May 18, at half DUGGAN.-On Wednesday, May 15, 1907, at his residence, 80 9th st., Long Island City, Dennis J. Duggan, brother of the late Mrs. Margaret Cass, in the 27th year of his age. Funeral on Saturday, May 18; 1907, at 2:30 P. M. Interment in Calvary Cemetery.

ELMENDORF .- At Ridgewood, N. J., May 16, Henrianna Green, widow of Rev. J. J. Elmen-Funeral at the Church of the Holy Cross, Ariting ton and Claremont avs., Jersey City, Friday, May 17. Requiem mass 10 A. M. Please omit flowers. Chicago papers please copy.

TTZPATRICK.-Edward J., beloved son of the late Edward and Bridget Fitzpatrick, on May 15, 1907, in his 29th year.

Funeral from his late residence, 220 East 24th st., Sunday, May 19, 2 P. M. Interment Cal vary Cemetery. GOODWILLIE .- On Wednesday, May 15, 1907, to the 74th year of his age, David Henderson Goodwillie, M. D.

residence, 111 Bruce ave., Yonkers N. Y. Caryl Station. Putnam train leaving 155th st. ODGE.-At Princeton, N. J., Wednesday, May 15. Margaret McLaren, widow of Archibald Alexander Hodge, D. D.
Funeral from her late residence in Princeton on Saturday, May 18, at half past 2 o'clock.

Funeral on Saturday, May 18, at S.P. M., at his late

KELLY.—On May 16, 1907, James, husband of Margaret and father of the Rev. E. A. Kelly. pastor of St. Agnes R. C. Church, Paterson, N. Relatives and friends, also members of the Holy Name Society, are kindly invited to attend the funeral from his late residence, 27 McKinley av., East Orange, on Monday, May 20, to the Church of Our Lady Help of Christians, where a solemn high mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul. Interment in St. John's Cemetery, Orange, N. J.

EWIS.—At 411 5th av., on May 14, 1907, Mary Taylor Lewis, widow of George Lewis. Funeral from her late residence on Friday, May 17, at 11 A. M. EWELL, -On Thursday, May 16, at Bernards ville, N. J., Frances C. Newell, wife of the late Frederick S. Newell of Kenosha, Wis. Chicago papers please copy. RANDALL -On Thursday, May 16, 1907, Frederic Charles Randall, of acute peritonitis.

Funeral services will be held at St. Agnes 's Charel 92d st. and Columbus ave., on Saturday.

18, at 2:30 P. M. Kindly omit flowers. SKIDMORE. On Thursday, May 16, 1907, 81 residence, 39 West 52d st. Helen Augusta Beadleston, beloved william L. Skidmore. Funeral services at the Collegiate Church of St. Nicholas, 5th av. and 45th st., on Saturday afternoon, May 18, at 2 o'clock. Boston and Philadelphia papers please copy. SOUTHMAYD. At Elizabeth, N. J., The May 16th, 1997, in his 84th year, John Adams Southmayd, son of the late Henry Son

in Memoriam

DAVIS.—In loving memory of Edwin McCala Davis, beloved husband of Wenonah Herding — Davis, who died May 17, 1905,